BINDERY

By malarial disease, the human machine cannot perform its office. Disposition, secretion, evacuation are dis-ordered, the blood becomes watery, the nerves feeble, the countenance ghastly, sleep disturbed and appetite capricious.

Terrible is this disease, full its consequences. There is, however, a known antidote to the miasmatic poison, and a certain safeguard against it. In malaria regions of our south and west, in South America, Guatemala, and on the Islands of Panama, as well as in trans-marine countries where the scourge exists, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has during the last thirty-five years, been constantly widening the area of its usefulness, and demonstrating its sovereign value. Liver complaint, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney trouble, rheumatism and debility are all remedied by it.

THE ACTION OF CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER

Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are easy to please. Try them.

SUSPENDED FROM OFFICE.

THE TREASURER OF MISSOURI

UNDER INVESTIGATION.

Gov. Francis Sudden Charge of the Office and Books—Crimes and Criminals.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 4.—State

Treasurer Noland has just been suspended. No cause for the suspension is known, except a rumor which has gained some credence here to the effect that Noland was in trouble over his accounts with the State. Mr. Noland said to-day that he was not aware of any difference between his bondsmen and himself, and that so far as his accounts with the State are concerned they are correct and will be cleared up. Gov. Francis is examining the books. Last evening, after returning to the executive mansion, the Governor received the reporters and made this statement:

"Some time ago, while I was in New York with the St. Louis world's fair committee I received word that Mr. Noland's accounts ought to be examined.

The law requires that the Governor shall upon certain conditions, examine the treasurer's accounts, and it is in compliance with this law that I am making the investigation. I have been engaged since last Friday examining the books and no defect or shortage has been discovered. Mr. Noland is suspended from office while the investigation is in progress, and that action was taken only in compliance with the terms of the law mentioned, and not because there was evidence, or well-grounded suspicion even, that the books are not all right.

The examination will be concluded tomorrow evening."

DID THE GENERAL STEAL THEM?

Sir Frederick Middleton Accused of Lifting $10,000 Worth of Furs.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 4.—The charge against Gen. Sir Frederick Middleton—the stealing of furs valued at $10,000, from Charles Brown, a half-breed hunter, was brought up in the House of Commons last night. Bremner, in a petition to Parliament, says he trusted the furs to Middleton on the general's representation that the rebel's would certainly capture them if he attempted to retain them.

Bremner took the general's advice, and his furs, which were the result of two years' gathering, were taken over by the general. The next thing heard of them they were shipped east, some for the general himself and some to his numerous friends. Bremner, who has never seen them since, asked the government to investigate the matter.

The government will be compelled to order the inquiry and the general will probably have to resign. Lady Middleton's furs are the envy of the capital.

HELD FOR GRAND LARCENY.

Arrest of a Prominent Kentuckian for Stealing Railroad Stock.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 4.—A tremendous sensation was created here when

Jacob S. Keller, until Saturday secretary of the Passenger and Belt Line railroad, was arrested for grand larceny.

He has been considered a model young man, is about 25 years old, and is married to a Bourbon county belle.

Last Saturday was city election day and Keller voted the ticket opposed to the Belt Line road. This incensed the president, C. H. Stoll, so Keller says, and the latter was asked to resign, which he did, and about 4 o'clock this afternoon he was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Stoll accusing him of grand larceny in having in his possession a canceled stock certificate for 413 shares which belongs to the company.

Keller has had this in his possession since last August, claiming that his name was originally signed to the instrument was a forgery. Stoll will also bring suit to recover the certificate.
